WELCOME

Since Capital Fringe was founded in 2005, we have been continuously asked: "Why does DC need a Fringe?" As we embark on the journey of our 5th anniversary year, we find it critically important - maybe now more than ever - to have an open-access performing arts festival in the District. Capital Fringe strives to maintain the open-access policy of the Fringe, ensuring performers can take part in a vibrant Festival without being subjected to artistic vetting or selection. DC is full of committees, institutions, special event art promoters and politically-appointed individuals who curate and filter the performing arts. They determine 'artistic value' for audiences, and often communicate to many artists that their story/work does not have a place. We are leaving these decisions up to the people. We believe in you the Audience and in you the Artist. We believe in the power of artistic natural selection and we invite you to create, explore, attempt, fall short, and succeed with us. To risk. We approach our work and our mission as an organic process: things ebb and flow and we respond to energy taking its natural course. We advise you to approach the Festival in very much the same way - be adventurous! Follow your instincts and go see something you never thought you'd like - instead of being frozen in indecision for two hours. If indecision is your thing however, then come nurse a cold micro-brew at the Baldacchino Gypsy Tent Bar. There are many free, live music and performance offerings going on at the Baldacchino throughout the Festival, and we'll let you hang out all day - at least until its time to go home.

MISSION

Capital Fringe is a 501(c)3 nonprofit organization founded in the summer of 2005 with the purpose of infusing energy into performing arts in the Washington, DC region through our annual Fringe Festival, year-round Fringe Training Factory and other programs. Our mission is to connect exploratory artists with adventurous audiences by creating outlets and spaces for creative, cutting-edge and contemporary performance in the District. Capital Fringe encourages artists to develop their talents and express their artistic visions without curatorial barriers.

WHAT IS CAPITAL FRINGE?

From its beginning, Capital Fringe has been a major contributor to the cultural life and character of the District of Columbia, as well as encouraging the economic growth and social well-being of the City. Capital Fringe received the 2007 Mayor's Arts Award for Innovation in the Arts and the 2007 Momentum Award from the Downtown DC BID, and was also a finalist for the 2009 Mayor's Arts Award for Excellence in Service to the Arts.

2006 With minimal resources and few staff, the first Capital Fringe Festival featured 96 shows and garnered an attendance of over 15,000.

- At Home in Penn Quarter – Fringe was located entirely in the Penn Quarter neighborhood with 18 Fringe-run venues as well as 'Find Your Own Venue' performances all over the District, including one in a Georgetown swimming pool.

2007 In the 2nd year of the Festival, the Fringe increases its appetite for transforming non-traditional spaces into performance venues.

- Transforming Spaces – The Scientarium, in a former hardware store on D St NW, was inspired by 19th century medical operating auditoriums. Fringe also transformed a vacant space on 7th Street NW into a box office, art installation and performance venue.

- Expanding into New Neighborhoods – Fringe begins its expansion into other District neighborhoods, with performances on H Street NE and the 14th St corridor in NW.

- Audiences Choose Favorites – 2007 was also the first year of the Pick of the Fringe Awards, which gave audiences an opportunity to vote for their favorite shows in the unjuried festival.

2008 In the third year, Fringe continued to expand and grow the Festival in new ways.

- Fort Fringe is Born – Fringe took over a city block on New York Ave NW, creating FORT FRINGE. This venue, once the famed A.V. Ristorante Italiano, which had been in existence for nearly 60 years, hosted two performance venues and a central location for audiences, artists and staff to come together: The Baldacchino Gypsy Tent - a tented, cabaret performance space and beer garden.

- First Fringe Fanatic and Directors' Award – Mike Riley, who saw 47 shows during the Festival, was the first Fringe Fanatic. The Directors' Award recognized Children of Medea, a production by Sue Jin Song that embodied what producing in the Festival is all about.

2009 Our fourth year saw further development in the Fringe/Artist relationship and offered a wider array of programs.

- Fringe's Youth Movement – Fringe partnered with the Sitar Arts Center to create the Youth-Led Training Factory, a residency program that culminated in young Artists producing their own work at the Festival, telling their stories, and learning to become self-producing Artists.

- The Green Plan – Fringe actively worked with Artists and audiences to understand how to be more "Green," and featured The Free Store: a shop where people could meet to exchange tradeable and recycled items and further build a sense of community around the festival.

- FAST Arrives and Fringe Makes a Movie – Fringe started a new live music series featuring local bands and touring acts at Fort Fringe. Festival Director Scot McKenzie's Mr. Fables, a short film about someone drawn to the Fringe, was created in the run-up to the Festival - check it out on our website.

- New Performance Series – fallFRINGE begins with performances of hit shows from the Festival returning to DC for a series of encore performances.

FRINGE BUTTON

A Fringe button is required to enter ANY Fringe show in ANY venue. The button costs $5 and is a one-time purchase. Button proceeds support the Fringe. Patrons MUST have a Fringe button on to enter a venue. If you forget to bring your button, you will have to purchase another. Fringe buttons can be purchased online and in person at the Fringe Box Office at Fort Fringe during operating hours. A Fringe button is NOT required to hang out in the Baldacchino Gypsy Tent Bar!

Don't forget: your button is good all year for discounts at local shops, restaurants, museums, and theatres!

INTERESTED IN SEEING MULTIPLE PERFORMANCES?

Consider buying a Fringe Pass to get two benefits at once: flexibility and savings. P.S. you get a free button when you buy a pass! For more information on passes visit capitalfringe.org.

CUSTOMERS WITH DISABILITIES

Fringe welcomes customers with disabilities. Facility and performance accessibility varies. Look for the accessibility signs marking accessible venues. For more specifics on venues call us at 866-811-4111, or visit us at our Festival Box Office at Fort Fringe (607 New York Avenue, NW) if you have access requirements or need to book wheelchair accessible seating.

PLEASE NOTE

- All tickets are General Admission.
- A Fringe Button must be worn, in whatever fashion, to enter any Fringe venue.
- Seating is done on a first come first serve basis.
- Tickets cannot be exchanged or refunded except in the event of a show cancellation.
- Latecomers will not be admitted, except at the discretion of the Venue Manager.
- The Fringe is about exploration; if you're unsure what to see, visit our Box Office or The Baldacchino Gypsy Tent Bar for tips on choosing a show.
- All indoor Fringe venues have AC. It is July in DC – drink water! Dress appropriately!

MONDAY, JULY 12 6:30PM - DOES ART MATTER

Led By Brian Francoise, Baltimore Theatre Project, Khadijah Moon Ali Coleman of Running:AMOK, Julianne Brienza and John Chambers, BloomBars

In a time of war, large environmental disasters, economic crisis, how does art in the nation's capital make a difference? Join us for an interactive discussion with area artists, art-watchers and producers as we discuss art-making in DC and where it connects justice, protest, community and transformation.

MONDAY, JULY 12 7PM - SOLO PERFORMANCE ROUNDTABLE

Led By Slash Coleman, of Chaidentity

Come together with other artists to talk Solo Performance - what it incorporates and what it takes to be a solo performer. Topics will range from the writing process, developing new work, production challenges and audience outreach.

MONDAY, JULY 19 7PM - EXPLORING IMPROVISATION

Led by Ilana Silverstein

What is improvisation? Is theatre the only artistic discipline to use improvisation? Join local musicians, actors, dancers and visual artists who use improvisation in their work for a no-holds-barred conversation about the importance of improvisation in creativity. Experience improvisational scores/formats/approaches. Drink a shot of inspiration for your creative process.

MONDAY, JULY 19 6:30PM - YOU'VE DONE A FRINGE SHOW...NOW WHAT

Led by Mark Whitney of Fool for a Client,

Rick Hammerly of Factory 449 a Theatre collective and more

Are you a solo artist? Or do you have dreams of starting your own theatre company? Learn how to use Fringe as your launching pad from artists who have done just that. Join us at the Fort to talk about the highs and lows of being an independent artist.

Everyone has a first kiss. It's a life changing milestone. You are one step closer to being an adult and leaving adolescence behind. Do you remember who were you before your first kiss? Have you ever gone back to visit that person? He or she still lives in old diaries locked with tiny gold keys, in black and white composition books and in notes passed between friends during class. The younger you wrote poems and love letters, maybe even a song or two.
